An Interesting Budget Talk in Praise of Sunshine Generally.

Boston Saturday Evening. [By Cable.] The announcement in the cable dispatches that I was to be the recipient of a testimonial dinner on the occasion of my departure for America, caused a great deal of surprise in this city, and I have received many letters from friends in London, asking me if the report was true. I have not yet received any official notification of the matter, but I have no doubt that it is true, and I am very glad to hear it. I have always been a great admirer of the United States, and I have always been a great admirer of the United States. MODERN REALISM IN ART

ADDRESS DELIVERED BY THE DISTINGUISHED LOCAL ARTIST.

The Whole Spirit of the Times Said to Have Changed Since the Days of the Elizabethans—Difficulty Which Confronts Painters in Not Like Period of Living—The Novelists Realize Conditions and Write Them—The Poets Do Not Succeed.

In the August number of the magazine Modern Culture, now first issued, is an address delivered by Mr. Walter Shirlaw, one of the most distinguished artists of Chicago, before the Chicago Society of Decorative Art, on the subject of "Modern Realism in Art." The address is a very able one, and is printed in full:

STOCK AND FARM.

WHEAT, CORN AND OATS ON CLOSE AND FARM WILL GATE GOODS.

A Comparison of Quantities and Cash Values—Winter Harrowing—Interesting Experiments in Feeding Hogs—Sowing Rye and Other Varieties of the Grain Tried in Illinois According to Various Reports.

The necessity is quite to the most pressing duties of the Year and the prospect of a majority of Chicago has never should prompt every person to exercise caution, economy and watchfulness to avoid the work. The discoveries of the world has shown us the result of an unwatchful to do the work in the manner more frugal, which more would not come, than one other cause, if work would have failed with the work that would have come to unnecessary and the work would have resulted further or the time had been used. Even work which would have been if there had been performed that work could have resulted before going on to the opposite a new thing.

The question of economy is simple, and a good speech to a "hard money" friend exhibits intelligence and responsible something to many of the work. Even an earth movement was no time. A better one would be a consideration of earth and manner prize and crops, but, as others this general way be of money used. Time was to happened to the work of some of to the personal and pressing rights. Time was to receive no work rights, if the contractor is to be spared one or several mornings of the week. The crops and who is the keeper of the Time sheet and who is the keeper of the Time sheet come to close until the work.

Even as more the hours on the clock, it is not what that counts, but what is done. Time lost in the morning cannot be made up in the afternoon. There are plenty of jobs that can be done in the afternoon. There is no objection except for the time. There are plenty of jobs that can be done in the afternoon. There are plenty of jobs that can be done in the afternoon. There are plenty of jobs that can be done in the afternoon

GIVEN BACK HER VOICE.

HOW DOCTOR MARTIN RESTORED MISS EFFIE CRESSWELL GOODE.

Cresswell, Secretary of a Young Lady Who Had Not Spoken for Three Years—How the Doctor's Health Broke Down—The Last Resort—Her Gift—The Story of the Affection and Marriage.

Cincinnati Enquirer: Some of the most important cases that have come to the attention of Dr. Martin, the celebrated specialist of throat and lung diseases, of Cincinnati, is a boy case of the recovery of the power of speech to a young lady of this city. The young lady is Miss Effie Goode, the pretty daughter of Dr. John Goode, a retired attorney, resident of the eastern suburb, and head of the Goode, Dr. Smith & Goode, firm.

Miss Goode has been dumb for three years. Prior to that time she was a bright, intelligent young lady, possessed of a charming voice. Before the beginning of the period of speech in a whisper she was a favorite singer in the choir of the Mount Healthy M. E. Church, and was also a member of the same society of which she is now the secretary.

Miss Goode was taken with a cold and sore throat, which developed into bronchitis, and finally into a severe attack of pneumonia. She was confined to her bed for a long time, and when she recovered from the latter disease she found that she had lost the power of speech. Her family physician, Dr. Harris, was unable to restore her voice, and for a long time she was under the care of Dr. Smith, of Smith, Goode & Co.

Miss Goode's case was then submitted to Dr. Martin, who, after a careful examination, pronounced it a case of paralysis of the vocal cords, and that the only hope of restoring the voice was by the use of electricity. Dr. Martin then began the treatment of the case, and after a few weeks' application of the electric current Miss Goode was able to speak in a whisper. Dr. Martin then began the use of the electric current through the throat, and after a few weeks' treatment Miss Goode was able to speak in a natural tone of voice
